(March 29) - Governor Daniels ate breakfast with 25 members of the 416th Engineering Command preparing for deployment to Iraq at Camp Atterbury Thursday morning.

Daniels met with troops after an overnight stay at Camp Atterbury to thank them for their service. Daniels said he looks for opportunities like this to make sure troops have all the resources and support they need to do their job properly.

“There is so much talent in the American military, so much purpose, so much patriotism,” Daniels said. “I just don’t think we can thank them enough and I am proud that Atterbury is a place where folks here from every state in the union can experience a little bit of Indiana and a state that appreciates them as we do.”

Camp Atterbury is one of the major mobilization centers in the United States. It has mobilized over 30,000 and demobilized over 20,000 soldiers, sailors, and airmen for duty in the United States and overseas.
